DATES TO SEPTEMBER 6.

The Douglas Monument Ceremonies at Chicago.

CHICAGO, September 6.—The ceremonies of laying the corner-stone of the Douglas monument to-day, were most impressive, and were accompanied by a most enthusiastic ovation to President Johnson. At an early hour the streets near the Sherman House were clocked by a vast crowd which had come from every part of the State to witness the ceremonies. The procession on the ground was over a mile in length, and was formed by various lodges of the Masonic fraternity. The committee of arrangements, Knights, Templars, Hibernian organizations, temperance societies, Italian, Bohemian and German societies, Turners, and a vast crowd of citizens. All along the route the President, General Grant, Admiral Farragut and Secretary Seward met a most enthusiastic reception from the crowd, which numbered many thousands. After the stone had been laid by the President, Maj.-Gen. John A. Dix delivered an oration on the life, character, and public services of Stephen A. Douglas, characterized by great eloquence, and

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE.

SATURDAY MORNING, SEPT. 8, 1866.

That Abolition Horde.

The New York Day Book truculently declares that "an Abolitionist has no natural right to live or run at large in these States." Also, as an amplification of this charitable idea, it asserts with even greater emphasis that "Abolitionists have no natural right to live an hour on this earth." These declarations are in the true Erebus vein, and would well become the Oregon Statesman since its late somersault into the ranks of the Copperjohnsons. In fact they accord perfectly with the tone of that journal's leading article of this week. The Day Book and Statesman are on the same plane. It would be difficult to decide which fights "Abolitionism with the greater vehemence. The Day Book puts the case in plainer and more direct language; the Statesman indulges in a style of denunciatory declamation which its co-worker scarcely ever affects. The Statesman is decidedly ahead. Its bathos is better bathos, its magniloquence more magniloquent magniloquence than anything the Day Book can produce. "Hordes of fiery factionists who are stinging the hearts of a people to frenzy with the scorpion lash of sectional bitterness," is good. It's first-rate. What's more, it can't be beat. If anybody thinks he can beat it, we should like to see him trying. Salem rhetoric is "looking up," decidedly. The talented young man who declaims in this superb style hasn't "spoke pieces" at school exhibitions for nothing. There's a germ of uncommon promise in him. Rev. Habbakuk Mucklewrath is evidently his model. But there is one danger which threatens him. In soaring so high, let him beware of the fate of Icarus. As no middle flight will content him, he is evidently in danger of rising so high as to singe his wings in the sun and render certain his fall.

For our part, we rather like the "Abolitionists." There are a good many of them, too. They are nothing like so scarce as they used to be. Of late years they have been generally considered a very respectable folk, though not having the good fortune to number the editors of the Day Book and Statesman among their admirers. They survived a good many bitter taunts some years ago, long before they were so strong as now; and we think it would therefore be safe to rest quietly in the belief that at this time they are in little danger of being entirely annihilated by the truculent words of the Day Book or the turgid declamation of the Statesman. That "hordes" is numerous—very numerous. During the late "unhappy troubles" it won considerable respect from its adversaries. Though the Johnson organs in New York and Oregon may be most decidedly of opinion that "Abolitionists have no right to live on this earth," it would not be altogether advisable for them to try the project of extermination. We believe that, on reflection, these journals will see it in this light. True, the "Conservatives" met with encouraging success in their late attempts at Memphis and New Orleans; but these places were only some of the outposts of "Abolitionism," remotely situated from the general "horde," and therefore perfectly safe to attack. The discretion of the "Conservatives" is admirable. Though they hold the opinion that the "fiery horde of Abolitionists have no right to live," they have no intention of proceeding to demonstrate this belief except in cases where their instincts teach them it can be done without danger. To murder an unarmed Convention and hundreds of helpless negroes is a very different thing from attacking a "horde of Abolitionists" well prepared with arms. We may safely conclude, therefore, that however firmly the Day Book and Statesman may believe that "Abolitionists have no right to live," their "Conservative" brethren will do little to exterminate them, except to incite riots and perpetrate murders in those places where the "Abolitionists" are few, and "National Union men" of the Mayor Monroe, Harry Hays and Andrew Johnson order powerful enough to enforce their views triumphantly and without so much as the dread of danger.

How is It?

Senator Nesmith is reckoned by his supporters as a very considerable man. It is understood that he wields an immense influence at Washington. He has (so reports go) the exclusive ear of the President in matters relating to Oregon and the Pacific coast generally. Not only does he now control the appointments for this State, but says he will continue to control them whether he is re-elected or not. With all the Departments he is very influential. No one else is so much so. He has only to signify his pleasure, and the thing is done. Indeed he has as much influence with the Administration as Johnson himself. So says he, and so say his friends. Further, it is reported that he has done great things for Oregon. Eastern Oregon in particular, is understood to have received from him innumerable benefactions. Accordingly they have labored with surprising zeal in that part of the State for his re-election. True, it is not clearly stated what these benefactions consist in, but they are nevertheless believed to be real. Eastern Oregon didn't get a Mint; we suppose that is one of them. She has not had military protection; we suppose that is another. At this time that part of the State is full of hostile Indians, and robberies and murders are so frequent that it is often thought unnecessary to chronicle or notice them. This state of things has existed there for more than a year. Nesmith is said to have great influence with the Indian Department. So often has this been repeated that some suppose he is sole manager of that Bureau. This being the case, wouldn't it have been as well for him to have turned his attention in this direction some time ago, and put things to rights a little? And as a mere hint from him to the War Department is sufficient to ensure the instant performance of anything that is desired, wouldn't it have been quite as well for him, long ere this, to have obtained adequate military protection for Eastern Oregon? What is the matter? Has he been remiss in his attentions to his own State, or doesn't he have quite as much influence with the President and at the Departments, as he boasts of? With so powerful a friend at Washington, it is not easy to understand how it happens that Eastern Oregon has been so sadly neglected.

San Francisco Election.

A Copperhead editor has heard that the anti-Administration ticket is elected in San Francisco by 1,000 majority, and thinks it a piece of "very singular news." He has heard by this time that the anti-Administration majority averages 1,700, and that the Union candidate for the leading office has 2,500 majority—a piece of news which will probably seem to him more singular still. Of course this disappointed editor expected "my policy" to sweep San Francisco triumphantly. He did not anticipate a rebuff of this sort from that quarter. He had been persuading himself that the elections this fall would all be carried in the interest of the "new party." He did not believe that the appeal of the Philadelphia Johnson Convention could be resisted by the people anywhere. Hence his useful remark that the announcement of the result at San Francisco was "very singular news." Hence his charges of "fraud" and his assertion that notwithstanding the result, the Democrats have a majority of the legal votes of the city.

The dispatches announce that the result is very gratifying to the Unionists of San Francisco. It is certainly gratifying to us and to Unionists everywhere. The Union majority is not so large as in the Presidential election in 1864; but the aggregate vote is not nearly so large as then. This election indicates that California is good for 12,000 or 15,000 majority against the Johnson-Copperhead combination. The signs are everywhere auspicious for the complete success, in all the loyal States, of the glorious Union party. Congress is being sustained.

Convention of Southern Unionists—The Resolutions Adopted.

PHILADELPHIA, September 6.—The Southern delegates met at the National Hall at 10 A. M. After prayer offered by Rev. Dr. Bidwell, a telegram was received from the Republican State Convention at Syracuse, N. Y., congratulating the Convention upon the favorable auspices under which its sessions were being held. It was read amidst great applause.

Mr. Hamilton, of Texas, reported the following resolutions which were adopted unanimously:

Resolved, That the loyal people of the South unite in thanksgiving to Almighty God, through whose will a rebellion unparalleled for its causelessness, its cruelty and its criminality, has been overruled to the vindication of the supremacy of the Federal Constitution over every State and Territory of the Republic.

Resolved, That we demand as we have demanded at all times since the cessation of hostilities, the restoration of States in which we live to their old relations with the Union, on the simplest conditions consistent with the protection of our lives, property and political rights, nor in jeopardy from the conduct of rebels late in arms.

Resolved, That the unhappy policy of Andrew Johnson, President of the United States is, in its effects upon the loyal people of the South as unjust and oppressive, and accordingly, however ardently we desire our respective States once more represented in Congress, we would deeply regret their restoration on the inadequate concessions prescribed by the President as calculated not to abate but only to magnify the perils and sorrows of our condition.

Resolved, That the welcome we have received from loyal citizens of Philadelphia under the roof of the time-honored hall in which the Declaration of Independence was adopted, inspires us with hope that the principles of a just government, which were made the foundation of the Republic at its origin shall become the corner of the Constitution.

Resolved, That with pride in the patriotism of Congress, with gratitude for the fearless and persistent support they have given to the cause of loyalty and their efforts to restore all the States to their former conditions as States in the American Union, we will stand by the position taken by them, and take all means consistent with a peaceful and lawful course to secure the ratification of the amendments to the Constitution of the Union, as proposed by Congress, whilst we regret that Congress in its wisdom did not provide by law for the greater security of the loyal people in the States not yet admitted to representation.

Resolved, That the political power of the Government of the United States, in the administration of its public offices, is, by its Constitution, confined to the popular or law-making department of the Government.

Resolved, That the political status of the States so lately in rebellion to the United States Government, and the rights of the people of such States, are political questions, and are therefore clearly within the control of Congress, to the exclusion of, and independent of, every other department of Government.

Resolved, That there is no right, political, legal or constitutional, in any State to secede or withdraw from the Union, but they may, by wicked and unauthorized resolution and force, sever the relations which they have sustained to the Union, and when they do they assume the attitude of a public enemy at war with the United States, and subject themselves to all the rules and principles of international law and the law of war, as applied to belligerents according to modern usage.

Resolved, That we are unalterably in favor of the Union of the States, and earnestly desire the legal and speedy restoration of all the States to their proper places in the Union and the establishment in each of the influences of patriotism and justice by which the whole nation shall be combined to carry forward triumphantly the principles of freedom and progress until all men of all races shall everywhere beneath the flag of our country have extended to them freely all that their virtues, industry and intelligence may entitle them to.

Resolved, That organizations in unrepresented States, assuming to be States, government not having been legally established, are not legal governments until organized by Congress.

Resolved, That we cherish with tender hearts the memory of the virtues, sublime faith, upright character of life and generous nature of the martyr President, Abraham Lincoln.

Resolved, That we are in favor of universal liberty the world over and feel the deepest sympathy with the oppressed people of all countries in their struggle for freedom and the inherited right of all men to decide and control for themselves the character of the government under which they live.

Resolved, That the lasting gratitude of the Nation is due to those men who bore the blunt of the battle; who, in covering themselves with imperishable glory, have known to the world the future hopes of a free Government, and relying on the invincible soldiers and sailors who made up the grand army and navy of the Republic to be true to the principles for which they fought. We pledge them that we will stand by them in maintaining the honor to the saviors of the Nation and in reaping the fruits of their victory.

Resolved, That remembering with profound gratitude the precepts of Washington, we should accustom ourselves to the Union as the principal object of our political desire which has heretofore existed in our love of Union when too many of our neighbors in the South were waging war for its destruction, our deepest abiding love for the memory of the father of his country and for the Union is more deeply engraved upon our hearts than ever.

Report on the New Orleans Massacre.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 5.—The Military Commission organized to investigate the circumstances connected with the late massacre have completed their investigation and handed in their report to Gen. Sheridan at noon to-day. The report covers eleven hundred pages of closely written manuscript and proves conclusively that the massacre was premeditated and arranged by Mayor Monroe and others. The members of the fire department and different sections of regular military organizations which exists in this city appeared on the ground at a given signal, armed to the teeth, and assisted the police in their hellish task of murdering innocent and defenceless men. Over 150 trustworthy citizens have been examined and the evidence corroborative of their statement is said to be, incontrovertible.

Fire at Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 7.—The Union League house caught fire in the laundry about midnight. It will be entirely destroyed.

Fire in Smithfield, R. I.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 6.—The Union Worsted Works formerly known as Schrocher's Print Works, in Smithfield, five miles from this city, were totally destroyed by fire this morning. They were owned by Wm. F. and W. C. Sayles. The loss on building stock and machinery is $140,000. Insured for $8,000. The fire, it is understood, was caused by the ignition of matches.

NEWS BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 6.—The steamship Moravian, which sailed to-day for Quebec, took over 300 British regulars for service in Canada.

LONDON, Sept. 6.—In the Admiralty Court to-day an appeal was made by the counsel of the defendants for the release of the seven ex-rebel blockade-runner steamers, seized at Liverpool some weeks ago. The Judge decided that the United States Minister Adams, or the United States Consul at Liverpool, be required to file written authority for their proceedings.

LONDON, Sept. 6—Noon.—The Bank of England took reduced its rate of discount to 5 per cent. Consols better. The Figure at noon to-day is 89¾. Five-Twenties, 73; Erie, 46¾; Illinois Central, 70¾.

PARIS, Sept. 6.—Various diplomatic changes are expected immediately.

FLORENCE, Sept. 6.—The cholera is making sad ravages in Italy.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—A case is on trial in the Fourth District Court to-day before a jury, wherein Wm. McDougal, a music teacher of this city, sues Thos. Maguire, the theatrical manager, to recover $5,500 damages for an assault and battery committed in Kohler's music store some eight or nine months ago. Maguire has brought a cross action for libel, claiming $5,000. Damages as an offset against McDougal's case.

The suit of F. P. Dunn against Gen. W. Tyler, to recover $25,000 damages for an assault and battery by defendant some months ago, is on trial in the Twelfth District Court before a jury. It seems that the difficulty occurred on a trial of a divorce case before a referee, when Dunn accused Tyler of putting words into the mouth of a witness.

The last will and testament of Wm. Morris, has been filed in the Probate Court. He leaves $10,000 to his brother Josiah, in trust for his mother, Elizabeth Morris during her life, after which it reverts to his brother, and the remainder of his property is ordered divided between his brothers and sisters, John H. Morris, Josiah Morris, Sam'l Morris, Lydia R. Hunt, Mary Amanda Wiley, Elizabeth Morris and Emmet Jane Morris.

Teodora Higuera DeSachaes, has commenced suit in the Twelfth District Court against Patrick Mahon, to recover $25,300 damages for the unlawful occupation of San Pedro Ranch, and expense of ejecting them after they had obtained possession through a bill of sale made by her son, Pedro, by virtue of a power of attorney obtained from her by her brother, through fraud. It will be remembered that Judge Pratt set aside the power of attorney and restored the property to its rightful owner a few weeks since.

Another expedition to aid the Liberals in Mexico, is said to have sailed from here last night.

The following dispatch has been received in this city by the Union State Central Committee:

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 6.—To Alfred Barstow, Secretary of the Union State Central Committee—Convention immensely successful. Tremendous enthusiasm. Perfect harmony. Congress endorsed; "my policy" denounced. Union triumphant. Results.

Signed, Cornelius Cole, Frederick Billings, Wm. Higby, Richard Cheney, D. C. McRuer.

HARRY JACKSON!

The Celebrated Clown and Mimic, who will appear as

Shakesperian Clown and Jester,

And give his wonderful imitations, also impersonations of the DWARF FRENCH LADY, Trumpet Solos, etc.

The press has pronounced him a fellow of infinite jest and excellency. A bit; a palpable hit.

"Harry Jackson makes an excellent Clown, being witty without vulgarity, and clever in the general acceptance of the term."—Sac. Bee.

"A new feature in the entertainments, was the appearance of Harry Jackson, the Comedian, as Clown. We award Jackson the credit of being an unusually fresh jester, with a good stock of stories, witticisms, apt quotations and practical jokes. His imitations of Bandman, Sloan and Forrest were close and amusing, acknowledged by the public to be the most successful son of Momus since the days of the far-famed Walter."—Sac. Union.

Mustang Liniment.

OVER A MILLION DOLLARS SAVED!

Gentlemen:—"I had a negro man worth $1,200 who took cold from a bad burn in the leg, and was useless for over a year. I had used everything. I could hear of without benefit, until I tried the Mexican Mustang Liniment. It soon effected a permanent cure."

J. L. DOWNING.

Montgomery, Ala., June 17, 1859.

"I take pleasure in recommending the Mexican Mustang Liniment as a valuable and indispensable article for Sprains, Sores, Scratches or Galls on Horses. Our men have used it for Burns, Bruises, Sores, Rheumatism, &c., and all say it acts like magic. J. W. HEWLEY, Foreman American, Wells, Fargo's and Harnden's Express.

"The sprain of my daughter's ankle, occasioned while skating last winter, was entirely cured in one week, after she commenced using your celebrated Mustang Liniment.

Gloucester, Mass., Aug. 1, 1865. ED. SEELY."

It is an admitted fact that the Mexican Mustang Liniment performs more cures in shorter time, on man and beast, than any article ever discovered. Families, livery men and planters should always have it on hand. Sold and used it certainly is. All genuine is wrapped in steel plate engravings, bearing U. S. Stamp of DEMAS BARNES & Co. over the top.

An effort has been made to counterfeit it with a cheap stone-plate label. Look closely!

Lyon's Katharion.

It is a most delightful Hair Dressing.

It eradicates scurf and dandruff.

It keeps the head cool and clean.

It makes the hair rich, soft and glossy.

It prevents hair turning gray and falling off.

It restores hair upon prematurely bald heads.

This is just what Lyon's Katharion will do. It is pretty—it is cheap—durable. It is literally sold by the carload, and yet its almost incredible demand is daily increasing, until there is hardly a country store that does not keep it, or a family that does not use it.

E. THOMAS LYON, Chemist, N. Y.

Lyon's Extract Ginger.

LYON'S EXTRACT OF PURE JAMAICA GINGER—for Indigestion, Nausea, Heartburn, Sick Headache, Cholera Morbus, Flatulency, &c., where a warming stimulant is required. CAUTION—See that the private U. S. Stamp of Demas Barnes & Co. is over cork of each bottle. None other is genuine.

Lyon's Flea Powder.

DEATH TO FLEAS.—It is well known that Lyon's genuine Magnetic Powder will perfectly destroy everything in the shape of fleas, ticks, bed-bugs, roaches, &c.; that it is perfect poison to the insect tribe, but entirely harmless to the human species and domestic animals. The genuine has the signature of E. Lyon, and the private stamp of DEMAS, BARNES & Co. Anything else of this kind is an imitation or counterfeit. Any druggist will procure the genuine if you insist you will have no other.

OUR WHEAT CROPS.—With the demand for breadstuffs falling off in foreign ports, and a consequent decrease of shipments from American ports on the coast of the Atlantic, as well as a decline in offerings for the Islands of the Pacific, Australian colonies and elsewhere, which until recently has taken up the greatest attention of grain buyers in California, the natural inquiry with us is: What shall be done with our grain crop? It is very clearly demonstrated to our mind that we must not look for a very extensive market east of the Cascade range of mountains any longer. Utah, Montana and Eastern Oregon, will be abundantly able this year to cope with the demand for breadstuffs nearer home, so much so that farming in that direction from this valley will be of small moment when compared to the supply we shall have on the part of the Islands. Our farmers are holding their grain, and the hope that they cannot dispose of it at rolling prices, without great sacrifice. Some of the heaviest producers have determined not to sell, even if obliged to hold on for two or three years, for an increase in prices. They prefer to let California supply us with our breadstuffs at low rates, if necessary, than to sell so cheaply themselves, and feeling a willingness to do this done, rely upon the uncertainties of a crop in California to make up whatever losses they may sustain. It is possible that our farmers are able to take this view of the subject, and put it into practical execution. If so, they are fortunate. The experiment is not new, but we are told has worked to advantage in previous exigencies. It is saying that wise men adapt their "measures" to their circumstances, and in the present case, perhaps, there can be nothing lost.

THE CALIFORNIA BALL.—We are informed by the officers of the steamer Nevada Troop that the efforts of the committee appointed by the ladies of Vancouver to sell tickets for the Calico Ball in aid of the fund for the purchase of a fire engine for that place, have thus far been quite successful. Over fifty tickets have been disposed of in Portland, which speaks very well for the liberality of our people. Much of this is no doubt given as a donation, but there will most likely be a good attendance at the party. Those who contemplate visiting Vancouver on the evening of the ball, will be taken over and back by the Nevada Troop free of charge, through the courtesy of her officers. This is according to the most liberal ideas of Capt. Turnbull. At a recent meeting of the citizens of Vancouver, it was resolved that in case the citizens there would raise $1,000 in coin, the Council would raise $1,000 in currency, to the purchase of fire engine.

THE SCHOOL PUBLIC SCHOOL.—Yesterday we spent an hour or half hour in the Central Ward School, of which Prof. Frambes is Principal. No one could fail to be highly gratified with witnessing the exercises. The several departments of the school are well ordered and arranged, and the whole is conducted in a manner which reflects credit on the Principal and Assistants. We were pleased with the appearance of the infant school. It was one the opening exercises which were participated in by the whole assemblage of little people was a sight which would have done any one good to see. The number of pupils now enrolled in both the city schools is about 1,200, and the average daily attendance about 960. It is the custom in Oregon for parents to pay too little heed to sending their children to the schools where their children are receiving instruction. If they would manifest a greater interest in this matter, they would encourage their children and help them on more than they think of. Go to see the little folks at school!

SAID THEM THE PAPERS.—The following extract occurs in a letter written by one of our citizens to a friend in the East: "In order to reply in the most satisfactory manner to your queries in regard to the country I am living in, I have ordered the WEEKLY OREGONIAN sent to your address for one year. From its columns you can learn more about Portland, and the Northern Pacific Coast almost as much as I know myself." Almost every resident of our State has left behind him in the far East, friends and relatives, who wish to know their situation and prospects generally, and to be informed what kind of a place to locate in. It would take hundreds of letters, written at great cost of time and labor, to give them half as good an idea of the country as they might gather from the columns of the OREGONIAN. We make it our business to issue what belongs, for the benefit of everybody, and are gratified occasionally to realize that our efforts are appreciated. We hope that every friend to the interests of our State who is asked about this country by friends here, will come to the office of the OREGONIAN and order the paper addressed to them.

COPIES OF THE WEEKLY OREGONIAN is but $3 per year. While upon this topic, and for the purpose of [illegible] in Oregon at home, we will state that the publication of the WEEKLY is printed on Friday evening of each week, when ladies and gentlemen who have any desire to witness the operation of machinery for printing the papers are invited to call at No. 5, [illegible] street.

ARRIVAL OF THE Fideliter.—The steamship Fideliter, R. G. Erskine Commander, arrived from Victoria last evening. The Fideliter left Victoria on the 5th, at noon. Crossed the bar yesterday at 6 A. M., after having been detained eighteen hours in a thick fog. The following are passengers: A. Pujol, C. G. Balknapp, wife and children, N. E. Sweet, Wm. H. Smith, Mr. Bagley and wife, J. Phillips, G. Marsh, A. Lyons, Mrs. and Miss Mrs. Patterson, C. Engelman, T. Chase, Scott [illegible], A. McPhun, S. Williams, E. Lawrence, Sergeant [illegible], R. Harron, and 3 Chinamen.

ACCIDENT.—Yesterday a little son and daughter of Mr. [illegible] living on Front street, while playing found a ball cartridge, which the little boy thought to fire by striking it between rocks. His little sister sat on the curb near by to witness the operation, and as the ball was struck it was discharged, the ball taking effect in the fleshy part of her lower limb. Fortunately no serious injury was done.

WHITE POWDER FOR SUN STROKE.—The following plan adopted by the contrabands of Louisiana, for the treatment of sun stroke, has been very successfully carried out: "When persons are [illegible], friends should immediately [illegible] to be a glass of cold water, place a sheet of paper over it and invert the glass upon the top of the head, [illegible] the water from running out. As soon as the head is warm, lift the glass again, and continue [illegible] until the patient revives."

SAW WORK.—We noticed a new water wheel of the Jason [illegible] with Simms' improvement, shipped to the Oak Point mills by the Willamette Iron Works. They have also other patterns at their works in process of completion, and from our limited knowledge, should judge that they are busy. The Willamette Works have turned out a large quantity of mill work this year during the past two years, and with universal satisfaction.

THE DREDGER.—The new dredger was down to the east side of the river, opposite this city yesterday, where the [illegible] was finally adjusted, and worked sufficient to show that the machinery of the machine, preparatory to permanent work which is to take place to-day, when it is expected the city will accept of the work.

DRAY DOWN.—The horse and dray lost at the foot of Stark street, in the river a few days since, were [illegible] and dray procured by the owners, and the horse left to float away. The current failed to take the dray off, and it was "found" by the citizens of East Portland last evening, in a proximity to their homes [illegible].

THE PANORAMA.—Bachelder's Panorama was exhibited again last evening to a crowded house. This afternoon there will be an exhibition at 2 o'clock, for the accommodation of ladies and children. This evening there will also be an exhibition. On Monday evening the exhibition will be at Vancouver.

THE Fideliter.—The steamship Fideliter, Captain Erskine, left Victoria on the 5th inst., with a large cargo of merchandise, iron, etc., consigned to the following: J. Underhill & Co., W. Mor[illegible], Beebe, Wm. Buck, O. C. Stratton, [illegible], Lappens & Knowles, G. G. Ballenapp, A. Pujol, Bonn [illegible].

BASE BALL.—The Pioneer Club played another match game on the [illegible] at East Portland yesterday. The nine were [illegible], of Elw. Bartlett and W. H. [illegible]. We did not learn the result, but [illegible] the game was well played, Whitwell's nine being victorious.

A few friends who enjoyed an excursion by [illegible] on board the schooner Fannie, when last in port, propose to take a little trip with Capt. Hanson, on the [illegible] next. The deck will be cleared for dancing, and a good time generally is expected.

—Mr. Crane, one of the Penitentiary guard, arrived in this city on Thursday with a convict [illegible] reserve, and is transferred to the asylum.

—The schooner J. C. Champion, Capt. Quick, arrived from Yaquina yesterday.

IN MEMORIAM.—At a special [illegible] of the Pioneer Base Ball Club, held August 25th, the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS, It has pleased God by the Almighty disposer of events to [illegible] from our midst our late worthy and esteemed brother, James S. Bradford, and

WHEREAS, The feelings of sorrow [illegible] by the deceased with the members of this Society render it proper that we should place upon record our appreciation of his many commendable qualities;

1. That while we are called to mourn his loss in our midst, yet would we at this time tender to the family and friends of our deceased member our heartfelt sympathy in the loss of one who was ever respected by all who knew him.

2. That the following resolutions be spread upon the [illegible] of this Society, and that a copy be sent to the family and friends of the deceased.

TOM. G. MORRIS, President.
P. K. WILKINS, Jr., Secretary pro tem.

A WORD CHRISTMAN AND PUBLIC LECTURER says of [illegible] Vol. Tinchers": "In all my lecturing tours, I put Torches into my carpet bag as regularly as I do a shirt collar." Public speakers, vocalists, and all others who exercise the voice should never fail of using the Torches. They surpass all other preparations for clearing and strengthening the voice, removing hoarseness, allaying irritation of the throat, and, as a cough remedy, are unequaled by the best.

THE LEGISLATURE, at the coming session will doubtless pass a UNANIMOUS JOINT RESOLUTION, endorsing the fact that KOHN & FISHEL, at the ST. LOUIS STORE, No. 111 Front street, furnish the BEST STYLES and QUALITY OF CLOTHING, BOOTS & SHOES, at LOWER RATES, than can possibly be found at any other establishment of the kind in the State. They are CONSTANTLY RECEIVING INVOICES by every [illegible] DIRECTLY FROM THE EAST, so that their stock is always complete. It is to everybody's interest to call on them BEFORE PURCHASING ELSEWHERE.

STATE ITEMS.

We learn that trade at the Dalles has been very brisk this week. During the first half of the week twenty-five "thirty hundred" wagons were loaded, mostly for Boise City and Owyhee. A number of heavy teams arrived on the 6th from the interior. A very large amount of freight is going into the upper country by river steamers.

Gen. Benj. Alvord, who long commanded this military district, has been brevetted a Brigadier General in the regular army, to date from April 9th, 1865.

A correspondent writes us from Baker City, Baker county, that the Indians are going to take the small mining camps in that part of the country. As he was coming out from Clarksville, a short time ago, the Indians discharged three arrows at him, and as he says, "came very near getting him." It is extremely dangerous to travel through that country, except on the main roads.

Our Dalles correspondent writes under date of September 6th, that the Canyon City stage arrived that evening at an early hour, bringing news from Camp Watson as late as 3 o'clock P. M. Tuesday. Col. Baker arrived on Sunday last. He went as far as Harney Lake, but recovered only fifteen of the mules that were stolen; these were left by the Indians, they being in so much of a hurry to get away with their booty that they could not get this number along. The Colonel found seventeen mules shot. He was fortunate enough to capture a lone squaw and two children and bring them to the fort. Everything was quiet on the road this trip down.

THE WHOLE IN A NUTSHELL.—The reason why Sozodont has supplanted all other dentifrices is, that the flourishing promises they fail to keep, this peerless vegetable preparation quickly performs. When once adopted by man or woman, it is never relinquished.

G. VENARD,
CHARTRES COFFEE!
Manufactory Established in June, 1851.
STEAM POWER, NOS. 625 AND 627 FRONT ST.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CHICORY OF THE BEST and SPICES of all sorts.
The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commends here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price; excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, gaining upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can only be remedy after trial, for, to add to the favorable opinion of it as consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.
BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.

MINING STATISTICS OF THE PACIFIC COAST — A late letter from Washington gives the following

At the suggestion of J. Ross Browne, the Secretary of the Treasury a few weeks since took up the matter of mining statistics and upon examination became satisfied of the great importance of having correct information reported to the Government in reference to the mineral resources of the States and Territories west of the Rocky mountains He agreed to second any efforts that might be made in that direction in case Congress should take action on the subject. Browne laid his plan before the Committee on Mines and Mining of the Senate It was warmly indorsed by Conness Stewart Guthrie, Nesmith and others and resulted in an amendment to the Miscellaneous Appropriation bill authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to expend the sum of $10 000 for the purpose indicated This will doubtless be followed by a larger annual appropriation so as to enable the Commissioner who may be appointed to employ such aid as may be necessary for the collection of full and accurate statistics on this subject The following points of inquiry will probably form the substance of the Secretary's instructions to the Commissioner

First—The general characteristics of the placer diggings and quartz ledges, and the different systems of mining adopted since 1848

Second—Machinery used and various processes of reducing the ores

Third—Population engaged in mining, the capital and labor employed the value of improvements in each district, the yield of mines worked average of dividends and losses in mining operations

Fourth—The proportion of agricultural and mineral lands in each district, the quantity of woodlands and the number of streams and water privileges

Fifth—Roads public and private, and cost of freight to and from the principal marts of commerce

Sixth—The altitude climate, mode and cost of living, cost of labor, etc

Seventh—Population and condition of the various mining towns postal and telegraphic communication with them, distance from point to point.

Eighth—Probable benefits likely to result from the construction of the Pacific Railroad and its proposed branches

Ninth—The stage routes in operation, and the cost of travel and transportation of bullion

Tenth—The necessity for assay offices at points to which attention has been called by letter of the Department to J Ross Browne, dated May 6, 1866

Eleventh—Copies of all local mining laws and customs regulating the holding and working of claims

Twelfth—The number of ledges opened, and the number claimed by right of discovery or possession in each district

Thirteenth—The character of the soil and its adaptation to the support of a large mining population

Upon all these points it is very desirable that we should possess reliable information Whatever tends to encourage the investment of capital in the development of our new States and Territories must be beneficial to the whole country

Secretary McCulloch seems solicitous that this information should be ample and authentic, and whilst he believes it will be conducive to the public interest, he is of opinion that it will be of particular advantage to the miners.

A CAPITAL HIT — The illustrated comic paper, The Phunniest Phun, for August, contains some capital cartoons, hitting off the mawkish sympathy for the State prisoner, Jeff Davis, manifested in Dr Craven's late work Some passages in the "Prison Life" of Jeff are ironically furnished by "Brevet Brigadier Lieutenant Private Doctor Miles O'Carven, D M." The following are examples

"Morning of the twenty-fifth day called with the officer of the day, Captain Tiptop Found Mr Davis complaining of an ittchin on the top of the head, advised him to scratch it. He had eaten nothing, and thanked me for the breakfast I had sent him

June 28 —Called with the officer of the day, Captain Gaff Found the patient suffering severely from hydrophobia Said that when a boy he had been bitten by a dog, and ever since had been subject to attacks of the dreadful canine malady Talking of dogs is naturally fatal to dog-fanciers, and dog-fanciers to thimble-riggers Mr Davis said they had the mestres, and thimble-riggers in the world in Mississippi. He then explained inditing the modes operandi of withdrawing the pea with the third finger, also the method of confusing the spectator by ingenious manipulation of the thimbles He then illustrated various modes of picking pockets

Called at seven in the evening, and found the State prisoner in tears He told me that General Miles only allowed him two clean shirts per week He thought it pitiful that he could not have charge of his own linen Napoleon at St. Helena was allowed eighteen clean shirts per week La Fayette was never allowed less than four, while even our prisoners at Andersonville were supplied with one every second day Mr Davis said that the quantity of shirts allowed him might be abundant according to the notions of a dirty Yankee like General Miles, but to the minds of Southerners, who were proverbially a cleanly people, the idea would be revolting 'I do not care for myself,' he added sadly, 'I drew in my youth been very dirty, but my people would feel the degradation keenly if they knew how dirty I am kept.'"

ANOTHER JOHNSON APPEAR BACKS DOWN.—The New York Commercial Advertiser is a conservative paper, and has steadily opposed the course of the majority in Congress; but it cannot support the President's policy as illustrated at New Orleans It says.

Now we hold that the construction placed upon this New Orleans riot is utterly wrong and unjustifiable. Its animus and origin was not with the Radicals. It sprang from a rebel source—a source as utterly disloyal as New Orleans was when Farragut thundered before the city, and replaced the rebel flag with the banner of stars It is a fresh outbreak of the spirit that drove Union men out of the city in 1861, and which gave over the whole South to anarchy and reduced it to a wreck Mistaking the clemency of the President and the tolerant magnanimity of the North, the rebel spirit is as haughty and defiant, and as anxious "to be let alone," as when it was ranged in arms across a continent, and had something more than the mere semblance of power We wish that we could hold the President and his policy altogether guiltless of this revival of the spirit which, for the sake of perpetuating caste and establishing an oligarchy, drenched the land in blood during a four years war But we are confident that when the record is made up, it will be seen that pardoned and promoted rebels have been the agents in this new outbreak, and that rent antagonism to the Union underlies the whole affair. We have constantly urged a policy of kindness toward the people lately in rebellion, but we have as constantly urged that the proofs of a good disposition toward the Union and Constitution, the evidence of thorough loyalty and obedience to law, be made a condition precedent of rehabilitation

THE NILE —Since the efforts of Speke and Grant at discovering the source of the Nile, one Samuel White Baker has made his way through desolate countries and dangerous places, and published the report of his investigations. Of the Obbo people, he says

"Although the men of Obbo wear a skin slung across their shoulders and loins, the women are almost naked, and instead of wearing the leather apron and tail as the Latookas, they are contented with a slight fringe of leather shreds, about four inches long by two broad, suspended from a belt The unmarried girls are entirely naked, or if they are sufficiently rich in finery, they wear three or four strings of small white beads about three inches in length as a covering The old ladies are antediluvian Eves whose dress consists of a string around the waist in which is stuck a bunch of green leaves, the stalks uppermost I have seen a few of the young girls that were prudes, indulge in such garments but they did not appear to be fashionable, and were adopted sans de mieux. One great advantage was possessed by this custom it was always clean and fresh, and the nearest bush (if not thorny) provided a clean petticoat When in the society of those very simple and indemeanor always modest Eves, I could not help reflecting upon the Musical description of our first parents, And they sewed fig leaves together"

He claims to have discovered a second source of the Nile a little lake around which were villages filled with fishermen The volume of Baker is the last published of many English works and reflects great credit on the perseverance and enterprise of the Englishman who have endured so much for the benefit of mankind

GENERAL GRANT —The Norristown, (Pa) Herald says

"If General Grant should be nominated by the Union men and elected to the Presidency in 1868, he will turn out the worst President we ever had" Which would be the handsomest turn out ever seen at Washington —Sac Union.

A COINCIDENCE —It is somewhat singular that the 14th of August the day on which rebel sympathizers assembled in Philadelphia, in the anniversary of Jeff Davis famous proclamation, banishing all Union men from the Confederacy As the document may not be remembered by the delegates and their friends, we re produce it for their especial benefit

Now I Jefferson Davis President of the Confederate States do issue this my proclamation and I do hereby order and require every male citizen of the United States, of the age of fourteen years and upward, now within the Confederate States and adhering to the Government of the United States and acknowledging the authority of the same and not being a citizen of the Confederate States to depart from the Confederate States within forty days And I do warn all persons above described, who shall remain within the Confederate States after the expiration of said period of forty days, that they be treated as alien enemies

Given under my hand and seal of the Confederate States of America at the city of Richmond, on this 14th day of August A D 1861

JEFFERSON DAVIS
R M T HUNTER, Secretary of State

WEEKLY REVIEW

PORTLAND FRIDAY, 2 P M
Sept, 7th 1866

Our latest dispatches from New York by mail are to August 1s The chief topic of the day was the Atlantic cable the success of which give the highest satisfaction and with the prospects of the peace of Germany—since concluded—tended to give a new stimulus to the speculative activity of Wall street which at that date, was more lively and better sustained than it had been for some time previous The money market was extremely easy and 5 per cent. was the highest rate for call loans A considerable number of transactions were reported at 4 per cent. and even lower rates There is such an abundance of capital in New York seeking employment on call that leading institutions find no small difficulty to find an outlet for their idle balances The greatest confidence prevailed, and every one seemed to anticipate a very extraordinary amount of activity in the fall trade.

Since the war in Europe has ceased a smaller export of breadstuffs and bonds may be looked for than under the circumstance of a continuation of hostilities, but it is very likely even under the present circumstances, that a brisk demand for cotton abroad will continue by which means the contingency of a sudden return of bonds will be escaped. It may be safely assumed, with respect to these matters, that henceforward there will exist a closer sympathy between the foreign and domestic markets, owing to the frequent exchange of quotations by means of the submarine cable which is now greatly resorted to, the cost of which is divided among several firms clubbing together for the purpose.

In the New York breadstuffs market there was scarcely anything doing at last accounts The demand for State and Western flour continued moderate, being wholly confined to the most urgent requirements of the trade, though the tendency of prices was downward Southern flour was dull and heavy Superfine Western sold at $5 60@7 60 ₱ bbl. The wheat market closed July 31st nominal and heavy Wool was dull and heavy The sales were confined to 75,000 lbs domestic fleeces at 45 @60c., including unwashed at 45c., and a small lot XX at 75c , 20 600 Texas at 30@32c small lot tub-washed at 65@62½c., and Nofia at 80c. 10 bales Mest to 5 000 lbs fine Nofia, and 8,000 lbs. Kentucky combings, on private terms.

Freights were inactive and rates were lower for grain, which was wanted, but steady for cotton. The engagements to this coast were limited.

A St Paul paper insists on the immediate construction of railroads in that quarter, and says that the Missouri is drying up year after year, and will shortly leave them without transportation

The managers of the Northwestern Railroad have agreed to finish their line to Council Bluffs by the first of January 1867, if the citizens of that place will do certain things, as follows 1st, To donate to that railroad eighty acres of land, for depot purposes, adjoining the town 2d, To pay the company a bonus of thirty thousand dollars to help what the expense of transporting from up the river from St Joseph 3d, To secure the right of way free of cost, from Council Bluffs to the line of Harrison county, a distance of some twenty miles. All of which has been readily acceded to—hence in less than six months, cars will be running from Chicago Ill , a distance of four hundred and sixty-eight miles, to Council Bluffs, and over two hundred miles further to Fort Kearney, making the entire line nearly seven hundred miles in length

The Denver Gazette thus speaks of the work and progress of the Pacific Railroad

"The gigantic continental work is fast progressing—rapidly lessening the distance between its terminus and the Pacific Ocean On Saturday July 5th, an excursion party started from Omaha to the end of the railroad track, and returned the same day One hundred and thirty five miles are now completed from Omaha to a point forty five miles west of Columbus."

In a late Railroad Convention in Memphis, a "solid man" of St. Louis remarked as follows

"The trade lying west of the Mississippi river of right belongs to St Louis. This is the proper place where the trade should break bulk"

To which, a leading commercial paper of Chicago replies

"If St. Louis will pay higher prices and sell at lower prices, and will furnish more rapid means of transportation than Chicago, then St. Louis will have no trouble in monopolizing the trade west of the Mississippi river. But until then, that trade will exercise the freedom which is its highest 'right' of seeking the best market"

The New York Tribune, not long since declared that St Louis was destined to be the second (if not the first) city in America. We have some points to differ upon both with the Memphis speaker, and the Tribune. Only a week or two since we referred to some able remarks delivered by Dr. Magowan before the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, pointing out important changes in commercial currents, which go now nearing us, and which must naturally culminate in a great commercial revolution The prediction of Webster, that America would soon be in the valley of the Mississippi, is rapidly approaching, in certain sense, no doubt, but we hardly believe, taking as comprehensive a view of the situation as possible, that the controlling commercial city after these changes have succeeded will be upon the banks of the great river, but that it will be at a point nearer the terminus of navigation on the Pacific ocean, where the immense trade of China, Japan, and Asiatic ports, "should break bulk" previous to its distribution along the line of the Northern Pacific Railroad This must be an admitted fact by all who will carefully and candidly examine the subject Four fifths of all the merchantment leaving the port of San Francisco now, for Asiatic ports, come up to the latitude of the route of the Northern Pacific Railroad before getting fairly under way on their westerly course Such is the experience of all navigators with the wind-currents of the Pacific Liverpool is nearly on the line The increased distance in a degree of longitude on the latitude of the Northern route gives it the advantage of being over a thousand miles shorter, from Liverpool in the East to Hong Kong in the West, than the Central route Both routes completed, the local business of the Central might, and most likely would be, immense, and its stock would rank with the most stable securities of America; but the Northern route would be the recognized Commercial Highway of the world, and it would be the one unrivaled medium of exchange between the Orient and the Occident, and while the Mistress of the Lakes would be one of the great entrepots she would be virtually no more directly located or prominent, than the position of the city on the coast of the Pacific which indications strongly show to be the present somewhat disregarded seaport of Oregon—Portland

Wholesale and Jobbing Prices.

PORTLAND September 7, 1866

Thus far the present month business is very encouraging for the fall trade The market presents no material alteration in prices although the tendency is low Candles are quite as firm as previously reported Importers below do not appear disposed to press sales at current rates hoping for some improvement ere long Holders of coffee are firm demanding extreme rates The market for tea is undergoing some considerable change in consequence of late heavy imports from Japan which has had the effect to depress prices On the 28th ult two bays previous to our last report, 2,550 packages of old and new crop Japans were placed upon the San Francisco market at auction This teas were all of good sound quality and sold upon 60 or 90 days credit, or 1½ ₱ cent off for cash 1 600 packages only were sold, the balance being withdrawn The attendance was large bidding sluggish—the leading jobbers holding off With in a short time past powders have advanced moderately Powder rules uniform—the supply being no greater than the demand We quote

Domestic Produce Market.

PORTLAND, September 7 1866

There is but a limited inquiry for most articles in this line Wheat is offered in very small quantities at 1 sell in accordance with the condition of the market at prices varying between 85@ 0 cents ₱ bushel of 60lbs although buyers would not engage at prices above 80 cents which we quote Oats rule at 37½ cents ₱ bushel, which is even higher according to the views of buyers than they can afford to offer except for their local demand, which of late has been the only source to which stocks could be applied The market throughout lacks vitality, as nearly all sales are confined to home wants

We hear of very little doing in Flour and Bacon Prices for the former are merely nominal We know that for a few qualities prices are asked in advance of our jobbing quotations, but the general market is tending down Good country brands are purchased from first hands to day at $4 25 ₱ bbl Receipts are not so free as we had anticipated for this season Bacon is mainly confined to trade wants. We notice that recent shipments to San Francisco to the amount of 75 000lbs sold on private terms say 10@10 cents ₱ lb , which is at least 1cent below current jobbing rates at the present time in this market.

Butter of good quality is very scarce and high The demand for eggs is falling off to a certain extent. Fruit sells according to quality and the order in which it is received at from $1 to $1 00 ₱ box. We quote
